

For in-depth GroupWise training & one-on-one time with an army of Novell engineers and experts attend GWAVACon The GroupWise Conference.

Dear GroupWise Administrator,

Only at GWAVACon can you:

Spend one-on-one time with an army of GroupWise engineers.
Sit in an open forum discussion with Novell's product management team.
Learn from GroupWise industry experts.

With the severe cut backs and the financial status of the economy, everyone is feeling the pain of stretching every penny. Many organizations are moving to GroupWise and 3rd party partners because they are safe haven in these troubled times.

2009 is an important year for your organization, and you are likely making some important decisions concerning your investment in GroupWise. In addition, you want answers to questions about upgrading to GroupWise 8, moving to Linux, as well as the future of GroupWise. Get the answers you need at GWAVACon 2009.

I personally invite you to attend GWAVACon, the only all access GroupWise Conference. It is the only conference developed to put you inside the engine of GroupWise. You know GroupWise is a rock solid product with a strong reputation in security, stability and low cost of ownership. You know you can rely on GroupWise to keep your organization out of trouble from downtime, email viruses and threats.

GWAVACon helps you find answers about compliance, backup, mobility, disaster recovery, email archiving, retention, email audit and oversight, and a host of other GroupWise issues. GWAVACon is where you find all of this information.

I personally guarantee that you will find what you need to defend and entrench your GroupWise investment. I believe in GroupWise. I believe it has a strong future that is bright with promise. Join me at GWAVACon and learn what 2009 and the latest version of GroupWise has to offer you and your organization.

Sincerely,

Richard A Bliss
